Meliá Cayo Guillermo, which offers first-rate service to its guests from any part of the world, is the first five-star hotel on Cayo Guillermo, an extraordinary tourist destination in Cuba's Sabana Camagüey archipelago.

Cayo Guillermo is also located off Cuba's north coast, in the well-known cluster of keys called Jardines del Rey (King's Gardens), festooned by the fine, white sand and bathed by the crystal-clear and peaceful seawater.

It boasts comfortable rooms with balconies and terraces that overlook the emerald waters visited centuries ago by pirates and corsairs, and, then later by writers like Ernest Hemingway.

It boasts, also, a conference room, beauty parlor with gym, sauna and massage, a great gastronomic offer in its restaurants and bars of different styles, specialized in the most select of Cuban and international cuisine, a fun pub and lobby bar open 24 hours, a fitness center; beach activities, with live music and permanent organized entertainment; the ability to practice various kinds of sports, including trekking along virgin paths, where you could come across water and land birds, such as flamingos, gulls and pelicans.
